ENVIRONMENT DAY CELEBRATION AT MEWAR UNIVERSITY

5 JUNE 2019

Celebrating World Environment Day at Mewar University is a great opportunity to raise awareness about environmental issues and encourage sustainable practices among students, faculty, and staff.

Host workshops and seminars on environmental topics. Invite environmental experts, faculty members, or students with expertise in relevant fields to lead discussions and provide insights into pressing environmental issues and solutions.

Create displays or booths showcasing sustainable practices and technologies, such as renewable energy sources, energy-efficient appliances, or waste reduction strategies. This can educate the community about practical ways to reduce their environmental footprint.

HUMAN RIGHTS DAY-2019

Human Rights Day is observed annually on December 10th to commemorate the day when the United Nations General Assembly adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) in 1948. The UDHR is a foundational document that outlines fundamental human rights and freedoms to which all individuals are entitled, regardless of their nationality, ethnicity, religion, gender, or any other status.

Human Rights Day serves as a reminder of the importance of upholding and promoting human rights for all people around the world. It emphasizes the need to protect individuals from discrimination, oppression, and abuse and to promote the principles of equality, justice, and dignity. Celebrating Human Rights Day at Mewar University is a meaningful and important event

Matdata Awareness Program and Matdata Awareness Poster Competition

While many genuinely cast their votes, many sit back and relax on the day of voting. Voting is right and duty of every citizen of India who is above 18 years of age, of sound mind and is not unlawful in the eyes of justice. Thus to spread the awareness Dept. of management, Mewar University organized a Matdaata awareness (Voter awareness) program at Mewar University, Gangrar, Chittorgarh on 16th April 2019.

In this regard students prepared skit and role plays . These street plays were organized at the University level to spread the awareness among mass. Participants beautifully conveyed the message. In addition to that poster campaign and awareness program was also organized. Competition at student level was held and best posters received certificates and prizes. The program was a grand success and received tremendous response and support from both University fraternity and outside people. The program ended with vote of thanks given by HOD Mangement, Mewar University.

NADAN PARINDE –April 2019

As we all know that many birds, animals, and creatures die in the summer season due to the non-availability of water & extreme temperature. In 2018, we started working on quenching the thirst of those birds and animals in our project “Nadaan Parinde” in collaboration with a leading organization in our region named Satisfaction NGO. Every summer we are distributing and hanging approx 400 to 500 water bowls and make people aware of saving our biodiversity. The students, NCC, and NSS volunteers of Mewar University together under the able guidance of Honorable Chancellor, Mewar University, Dr. Ashok Kumar Gadiya actively participating in this event.

Our intention is not only to hang up the water bowls but to make sure that it is filled with feed and water every day. So from this year, a monitoring system was also developed for their regular filling.

Awareness Programme on Save Girl Child

The existence of human life is impossible without the existence of females on this planet. In many parts of India still orthodox communities are against birth of girl child in their family. Although abortions have reduced considerably because of strict laws and Government initiative of 'Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao' campaign still killings in remote parts go unnoticed.

Thus to spread awareness in this regard department of Management , Mewar University organized a program on 26th Jan, 2019 at Tehsil Gangrar, District Chittorgarh to spread awareness among rural communities for saving girl child.

The students of department of Management through role plays, skits, and dance performances created an environment which was empathetic and heart melting. The crowd was silent and was able to connect with the message that was spread.

The program received eye opening response from the crowd and was appreciated by the SDM Gangrar. It ended with vote of thanks given by HOD Management dept.

Scientific information sharing initiative by Dept. Of Agriculture 20/04/2019

As usual as always among many initiatives which Mewar University takes to take care of nearby villages, Dept. of Agriculture, Mewar University visited nearby village Khutia to share unique concept of vermi compost, how to manufacture the same, what are its benefit and how farmers can derive and extract good results out of it. Farmers were curious and enthusiastic to learn about new techniques. They were delighted to learn about the results that can extracted out of it. Apart from this better ways of livestock handling and management were also taught.

Both students of Agriculture and faculties equally contributed in this initiative and were appreciated by all the villagers and University management alike.

The University Cleanliness Program-2 Oct 2019

(NSS AND MEWAR UNIVERSITY)

The University Cleanliness Program was initiated in response to the growing concern for maintaining a clean and healthy environment within the campus premises. The objectives of the program were:

- a. To enhance the cleanliness and aesthetics of the university campus.
- b. To promote a culture of cleanliness and responsibility among students, faculty, and staff.
- c. To ensure a safe and healthy environment for all members of the university community.

Village Survey, Dept. of Agriculture 02/02/2019

To understand the issue of sanitary , education crops, livestock, irrigation , drainage system in villages dept of Agriculture, Mewar University selected and visited a nearby village name Khutia on 2nd February 2019, to conduct a random survey.

A meeting took place between village Sarpanch Mrs Seema Salvi and Agriculture faculties. Elders and farmers were also present in this meeting. Exchange of thought provoking ideas took place between both the parties.

The villagers learned about better ways of keeping health and hygiene, sanitary upkeep, importance of education, new ways of irrigation methods and techniques and pesticides available in the market. Farmers got to learn about irrigation methods in detail. Farmers were happy to see such an initiative has been taken in their village and all valuable information provided are coming free of cost. Survey was conducted in the village by both faculties and students to learn more about village and thus utilize the data for scientific research activities. The effort was appreciated by the University staff and villagers alike.

International Women's Day Celebration

Worldwide, women continue to contribute to social, economic, cultural and political achievements. Same time the progress towards the gender parity has slowed down in many places. As per the World Economic Forum prediction in the year 2014, was that it would take 2095 to achieve global gender parity, however one year later in 2015, they estimated a slowed down progress in the already glacial pace of progress. This meant that gender parity wouldn't be achieved until 2133.

On the occasion of International Women's Day – 2019, The Department of Electrical Engineering of Mewar University organised events for the womanhood of Mewar University. International women's Day 2019 – Celebration at Mewar University was on 8th March 2019, 11:00 AM onwards at Vivekananda Seminar Hall.

Some NGO Ladies given Presentation on International Women day, and give some new ideas. There were some recreation programs like 'Choose & Sing' and 'Pass – Pass' for all lady staff members and students of Mewar University.
