Dear Sir.

Good morning & Greetings from Mewar University.

Collaboration between industry & academia supports improvement and innovation in the industry and helps to ensure industrial relevance in academics. For addressing challenges related to competitiveness, organisations often look beyond industry partners to academic collaborations for innovation.

Talking about how Industry- Academia linkages will mutually benefit the two, students will learn & engage in real world problem solving as it brings together the applicability of theoretical knowledge in real life situations. Industry will find job ready students who need less training and are productive from the very beginning.

We at Mewar University have tried to address the requirement of such skilled manpower & accordingly developed the courses with Training / Internships as mandatory components of the course curriculum. For this we have collaborated with MSME centers & have a strong association with 300+ companies located all across the country wherein we have been sending our students for their six months final semester internship. I am glad to share we have attached 8000+ students to various organizations located all across the country, where they have learnt & later based on their learnings majority of them have converted those internships in full time job opportunities.

For exploring such possibilities related to short term training programs, internships & further collaborations with your esteemed organization will look forward to have a interaction with your good self so that we can share the details at length & can work out a possible understanding on addressing such requirements and further possibilities.

Looking forward to your kind consideration and revert.
